FAMILY OFFICE EXCHANGE

Family Office Exchange (FOX) is a global community of wealthy families and their advisors, pursuing best practices in family wealth management. FOX is dedicated to advancing the practice of integrated wealth management by both single family offices and multi-family offices. The average office has approximately $500 million in AUM. FOX pioneered family office benchmarking, with the first study fielded in 1991, in order to give family office executives insights into how others were approaching the structure and service offerings, and to provide reliable cost and compensation figures. As part of their benchmarking studies they have collected data on their members asset allocation and performance.

FOX STRATEGIC CIO COUNCIL (SCION)

A carefully selected group of family offices that use a best-in class approach to selecting and managing investments. Important Fund Risks

There is no assurance that the Portfolio will achieve its investment objective. Exposure to the commodities markets and/or a particular sector of the commodities markets, may subject the Portfolio to greater volatility than investments in traditional securities, such as stocks and bonds. There is a risk that issuers and counterparties will not make payments on securities and other investments held by the Fund, resulting in losses to the Fund. The dollar value of the Portfolio's foreign investments will be affected by changes in the exchange rates between the dollar and the currencies in which those investments are traded. Derivative instruments involve risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments.

The Portfolio is subject to risks associated with investing in equity securities, including market risk, issuer risk, price volatility risks, and market trends risk. ETFs are subject to specific risks, depending on the nature of the underlying strategy of the fund. These risks could include liquidity risk, sector risk, as well as risks associated with fixed income securities, real estate investments, and commodities, to name a few. Investments in foreign securities could subject the Fund to greater risks including, currency fluctuation, economic conditions, and different governmental and accounting standards. The Portfolio may invest in instruments that provide exposure to alternative investment strategies, including hedge fund strategies. The Fund may invest in high yield securities, also known as "junk bonds." High yield securities provide greater income and opportunity for gain, but entail greater risk of loss of principal.
